

TEACHING PRACTICE SELF EVALUATION SHEET

OVERALL REACTION

THINGS YOU DID WELL.....	THINGS YOU WOULD DO DIFFERENTLY...
I felt my material was well prepared and that the activity on what language to use when ordering went very well and was a useful authentic activity for the students. The atmosphere was positive and the students felt they could ask for help.	I had too much prepared for the lesson – this was my first A2 class and I got the level of difficulty off. The material in itself was good but it was too much for one hour and should have been cut or split into two levels and I should have used even more visuals in the lesson.

SOME QUESTIONS YOU MIGHT ASK YOURSELF.

- Did you achieve your aim? Yes but not entirety
- Which techniques did you use? PPP
- How successfully? Somewhat
- What kind of questions did you ask? Personalized restaurant experience
- How did your students respond? Well
- Did you spread your attention evenly? Well (only 3 students)
- Was it all Teacher/Student or did you have some pairwork? Some pairwork and groupwork
- Was your timing/amount of material too much / too little / just right? No – I had too much
- Were the students of a level higher / lower / just as expected? Lower than expected
- Which skills did you deal with listening / speaking / reading / writing? Speaking/Listening
